- Shipped contributions to a public facing SPA application (onX's website), and an internal API. Tech: Vue.js, Flask API
- Demo new development to stakeholders

PROJECTS

Fuelcast.net As the CS senior capstone experience at the University of Montana, I lead a small team of my peers to assist a real world client's development for an existing web application. My team gathered requirements, created specification documents, and implemented solutions to satisfy client needs. One teammate and I each received a job offer after the class.
